

With growing international support and local commitment, Freetown is spearheading West Africa's fight against extreme heat, ensuring that African cities remain liveable and resilient in ...

Measure and reduce risks of climate impacts such as floods, landslides, coastal erosion, urban heat stress, air pollution and water shortages in the most vulnerable communities and landscapes across ...

Freetown, both a port city and the capital of Sierra Leone, is already experiencing adverse impacts from climate change. Freetown's position in a steep, forested peninsula in the Atlantic Ocean, coupled ...

Freetown's Heat Action Plan sets a precedent for other African cities, proving that urban resilience is not just possible, but necessary. With continued commitment from local and international ...

The launch event brought together policymakers, climate experts, and city leaders to discuss strategies for mitigating urban heat. Officials highlighted how extreme heat is already ...

Freetown, Sierra Leone is no stranger to the devastating impacts of climate change. The capital of one of the most climate-vulnerable countries, Freetown experiences lethal landslides, ...

Collaboration across sectors will align heat resilience measures with broader climate change frameworks, fostering coordinated, inclusive, and effective responses to urban heat. The Freetown ...

FREETOWN - As Sierra Leone marks the 13th anniversary of the catastrophic 2017 mudslide, which claimed over 1,000 lives in a matter of minutes, Freetown's climate fight has evolved ...

If no action is taken to combat these climate hazards, climate impacts will continue to, and will increasingly, affect livelihoods, the economy, assets and infrastructure as well as the natural ...

Freetown's First Climate Action Strategy - Freetown City Council. Skip to content. +232 76 404 979. info@fcc.gov.sl. 17 Wallace Johnson Street, Freetown. FacebookTwitter. Find key facilities and open ...

Web: <https://inalaaccelerator.co.za>