

Toshiba's board has approved a $15bn offer from a consortium led by a Japanese buyout fund, paving the way for the country's biggest ever take-private deal.

The case explores Japan Industrial Partners (JIP) $14 billion takeover of Toshiba Corporation (Toshiba). JIP was a private equity firm that took over the troubled electronics ...

Overseas activist investors own a significant number of Toshiba's shares, and some have expressed dissatisfaction about the bid. The Toshiba board accepted the deal in March. Toshiba ...

TOKYO, Sept 21 (Reuters) - Toshiba (6502.T) said on Thursday that a $14 billion tender offer from private equity firm Japan Industrial Partners (JIP) had ended in success - a deal which ...

Toshiba, whose roots go back to 1875, said Thursday the JIP-led consortium now holds 78.65% of all its shares. That clears the way for the domestic fund to squeeze out the remaining ...

Exploiting this situation of distress, CVC Capital Partners submitted a first bid to take Toshiba Corporation private for around $20bn in 2021. In the end, the bid was rejected because of ...

More than half of Toshiba Corp.'s shareholders participated in a $15 billion acquisition led by private equity firm Japan Industrial Partners Inc., fulfilling the requirements to push the ...

Scandal-embattled Japanese electronics and technology manufacturer Toshiba has accepted a 2 trillion yen ($15 billion) tender offer from Japan Industrial Partners, a buyout fund made ...

Private equity fund Japan Industrial Partners Inc.'s successful tender offer for Toshiba Corp. paves the way for a $2 trillion ($13.5bn) buyout that would end the electronics group's 74-year-long run as a ...

(Bloomberg) -- Toshiba Corp. accepted a buyout offer from a Japanese consortium, as the iconic conglomerate moved a step closer to ending a troubled chapter in its more-than-140-year ...

Web: <https://inalaaccelerator.co.za>